Materials should be clearly structured with explicit numbering, contain a detailed didactic overview indicating at least the intended target group and target level (according to the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages) as well as the name of their authors and contact details. If external texts und pictures are used their origin has to be indicated and copyright issues must be solved.